

CURRICULUM

ANA ISABEL GARCÍA ABELLÁN

aigarcia3@ucam.edu

Ana Isabel García Abellán started teaching career in the 2003-2004 academic term. Before attaining her current post in the Department of Modern Languages at UCAM -Catholic University of Murcia, she worked as a Pre-Primary, Primary and Secondary teacher in different schools within the Region of Murcia for more than a decade. As a Bilingual Programme Coordinator, she also supervised the implementation of the CLIL/AICLE approach at Montepinar Bilingual School. She has experience as a teacher trainer and literacy consultant for the Consejería de Educación and for many private educational institutions. She is also the author of a variety of CLIL-focused coursebooks and teaching materials published by Oxford University Press. She holds a degree in English Philology and a Master's degree in Theoretical and Applied Linguistics. She is currently finishing her PhD in bilingual education. Her research interests include bilingual education, literacy in the bilingual classroom, teachers' perceptions and training needs as well as early bilingual immersion programmes.