

CURRICULUM

Matthias Eschweiler

Matthias Eschweiler is tenured lecturer with a background in finance and monetary economics at Fontys International Business School in Venlo, the Netherlands and freelance lecturer at FOM Hochschule für Oekonomie und Management in Essen, Germany. His research is specialized on monetary policy, banking and capital market theory. His explicit interest rests on the quantification and econometric modeling of monetary policy's influence on capital, equity, and commodity markets.

Mr. Eschweiler has lectured, coordinated, and administered various undergraduate and graduate courses in management, finance, econometrics, and economics at Fontys International Business School (NL), Plymouth University (UK), Universidad Católica de Murcia (ES), and FOM Hochschule für Oekonomie und Management (DE). From 2011 to 2012, he has been head of the honours programme at Fontys and from 2012 to 2013 he has served as a member of the examination committee at Fontys. Additionally, he has supervised graduates in the conduct of their research and consultancy of large multinational companies in the field of his expertise. Amongst others, these firms include KPMG, PricewaterhouseCoopers, Ernst & Young, Deloitte, Hewlett Packard, Dell, Novartis Pharma, Hochtief, Deka, Deutsche Bank, Clearstream, Deutsche Börse, Ellwanger & Geiger and Hines.

Besides his academic work, Mr. Eschweiler has worked for leading companies and has gained experience in various fields. He has worked for PricewaterhouseCoopers in Amsterdam, the Netherlands, in the fields of Mergers and Acquisition and fraud analysis. Moreover, he has fulfilled several positions at the Jaegers Group, Europe's market leader in inland and short sea tanker operations. At the Jaegers Group, he has been executive director of several division units, the department head of health, safety, quality and environment (HSEQ), and has served as the head of finance of the group.

Mr. Eschweiler graduated with a Bachelor of Business Administration/Diplom-Kaufmann (FH) with first-class honors from Fontys International Business School and holds a Master of Science in International Business with a specialization in finance from Maastricht University. His bachelor thesis received the International Business Prize in 2008 and his Master Thesis has been awarded Maastricht University's Top Thesis distinction. Moreover, he was a Huygens Scholarship nominee in 2006. Mr. Eschweiler is currently pursuing his PhD in financial economics at the University of Duisburg-Essen's Mercator School of Management in Duisburg, Germany.