Profile

Sebastián Valencia de Armas holds a Higher Vocational Diploma in Bilingual International Trade from UCAM and has experience in administrative management, academic coordination and international trade. Throughout his career, he has been responsible for organising processes, advising and supporting clients and students, managing documentation and coordinating projects in both national and international settings.

He is currently Secretary of UCAM ESI Language School, where he coordinates the School's administrative and academic management. His responsibilities include organising official language examinations, supporting Spanish and international students, and liaising with teaching staff, university departments and awarding bodies to ensure the smooth running of academic activities.

He is highly organised and service-oriented, with strong problem-solving skills and a commitment to continuous improvement. Through his work, he contributes to strengthening the institution's internationalisation and quality assurance processes.
